SPEND TIME ON THE STOWE RECREATION PATH

A quintessential part of Stowe's charm, the Stowe Recreation Path is a scenic, 5.3-mile paved public path that starts in the historic Stowe Village, winds along the Little River and ends at a beautiful covered bridge, offering breathtaking views along the way. Open year-round, the path is a favorite for walkers, runners and cyclists in the warmer months, while winter transforms it into a peaceful route for cross-country skiing and snowshoeing. With easy access to local shops, cafés and parks along the route, it's as much a journey as a destination—an inviting space to move, explore, and soak in the beauty of Stowe in every season.

THINGS TO DO ALONG THE REC PATH

Walk, Bike, or Run – The path is perfect for a leisurely stroll, a scenic run, or a bike ride through some of Stowe's most picturesque landscapes.

Visit the Covered Bridge – At the end of the trail, you'll find a quaint covered bridge, one of the most scenic spots along the route.

Visit Local Shops & Cafés – The path passes by charming boutiques, bakeries, and restaurants, making it easy to pause for a coffee or a local treat.

Take in the Views – The Rec Path offers countless photo-worthy spots that showcase Stowe's beauty in every season.

Pack a Picnic – The path follows the Little River, with scenic picnic spots and peaceful places to sit and enjoy the view.

Winter Fun – When the snow falls, the path transforms into a winter playground, perfect for cross-country skiing, snowshoeing and fat biking.

RECREATION PATH PARKING

Parking for the Rec Path is available at the following locations:

Lintilhac Park behind the Stowe Community Church on Main Street in Stowe Village

Chase Park across from Stony Brook Condominiums on Luce Hill Road, just off the intersection of Route 108

Thompson Park off Route 108 before the Percy Farm Corn Maze

Topnotch Access off Brook Road, just past Topnotch Resort on Route 108

SAVOR YOUR SUMMER

Summer in Stowe is when the town truly shines, offering the perfect blend of adventure and breathtaking beauty. With endless opportunities for outdoor exploration, it's the ideal time to experience all that Stowe has to offer. From hiking and mountain biking on expansive trails to scenic gondola rides and refreshing water sports, summer is packed with thrilling activities for every type of adventurer. The warm weather invites you to explore the charming village, with its local shops, vibrant dining scene, and outdoor festivals. With the Green Mountains as a stunning backdrop, every moment feels like an opportunity to connect with nature and immerse yourself in the beauty of Stowe. Whether you're seeking adventure or simply looking to relax, summer in Stowe offers a little bit of everything, making it one of the best times to visit.

Tips for Visiting During the Summer

Plan for at least four days to fully enjoy all that Stowe has to offer, from outdoor adventures to exploring the village and local attractions.

Pack for the activities you have in mind, whether it's hiking boots for mountain trails, layers for cooler higher elevations, or swimwear for a day on the water.

Don't forget sunscreen and bug repellent, especially if you plan to spend time outdoors on the trails or by the water.

Be prepared for a range of temperatures – Stowe's weather can shift quickly, so pack accordingly for everything from warm sunshine to cooler mountain breezes.

Secure equipment rentals and book tours in advance to ensure you have everything you need, whether it's a kayak, bike, or guided mountain tour. Reservations can fill up quickly, especially during peak summer months.

Take time to explore Stowe's local scene – the town offers more than just outdoor activities, so be sure to enjoy its vibrant shops, art galleries and dining options.

Eat in or take your favorite treats with you.

WHAT TO PACK FOR YOUR HIKE

Whether you're setting out for a quick stroll or an all-day trek, having the right gear ensures a safe and enjoyable hiking experience in Stowe. Here's what to bring:

- Sturdy Footwear – Trails in Stowe vary in terrain, so wear supportive, weather-appropriate hiking boots or shoes with good traction.
- Layers of Clothing – Weather in the mountains can change quickly. Wear moisture-wicking base layers and pack a light jacket, even in warmer months. In fall and spring, bring an extra warm layer for higher elevations.
- Water & Snacks – Stay hydrated with plenty of water and bring high-energy snacks like trail mix, granola bars, or fruit to keep you fueled.
- Navigation Tools – A map, GPS, or a fully charged phone with offline trail maps ensures you stay on course. While many trails are well-marked, cell service can be spotty in some areas.
- Sun Protection – Sunglasses, sunscreen, and a hat help shield you from UV rays, especially on exposed trails and at higher elevations.
- Bug Spray – In late spring and summer, mosquitoes and ticks can be active, so pack insect repellent to stay comfortable.
- First Aid Kit – A small kit with bandages, antiseptic wipes, blister pads, and pain relievers can come in handy for unexpected scrapes or discomfort.
- Headlamp or Flashlight – Even if you're planning a daytime hike, a light source is helpful in case your trek takes longer than expected.
- Trekking Poles (Optional) – For steep or uneven trails, trekking poles provide stability and help reduce strain on your knees.
- Leave No Trace Essentials – A small trash bag and an awareness of Leave No Trace principles help keep Stowe's trails beautiful for everyone.

No matter the season, being prepared means you can focus on the best part—enjoying the adventure.

SPRUCE PEAK
STOWE, VT

BINGHAM FALLS

Located directly off Mountain Road (Route 108), Bingham Falls is another popular hike leading to spectacular waterfall scenes. The hike has quickly become one of the most popular waterfall hikes in Vermont due to its easy access, impressive geology and stunning scenery ideal for photography. The hike itself is only about a quarter-mile down to the falls, but it is steeper at the bottom and often can be wet and slippery, which is why it is categorized as a more moderate level despite it's short distance. Proper hiking shoes with good tread are highly recommended.

MOSS GLEN FALLS

A short drive from Stowe's historic village, Moss Glen Falls is the tallest waterfall in the state of Vermont, cascading 85 feet. The hike to Moss Glen Falls is popular due its short and easy terrain, easily manageable for anyone who may not consider themselves an advanced hiker. For most people, the highlight of this hike is the waterfall itself, which is only about a quarter-mile (approximately 10 minutes) from the trail head, but guests can keep going past the falls for a longer outing. Hikers can view and photograph the falls from both the base and a higher vantage point.

MAKE A SPLASH

With its pristine rivers, sparkling lakes, and breathtaking mountain views, Stowe is a paradise for those looking to cool off and connect with nature in the summer. Whether you prefer the gentle rhythm of paddling or the refreshing embrace of a natural swimming hole, Stowe's waters offer an inviting escape from the summer heat.

PADDLE YOUR WAY THROUGH SUMMER

Kayaking, canoeing, and stand-up paddleboarding (SUP) are some of the best ways to experience Stowe's natural beauty from the water. The Lamoille and Winooski Rivers provide peaceful stretches for a leisurely paddle, while nearby Waterbury Reservoir offers expansive waters and scenic shorelines perfect for an afternoon on the lake. A guided paddle tour is a great way to experience the waterways from friendly, knowledgeable locals and there are several places that offer tours in the area. Paddlecraft rentals are available at local outfitters, making it easy to get out on the water, even if you don't have your own gear.

TAKE A DIP & COOL OFF

For those looking to swim in the fresh mountain waters, Stowe offers both natural and designated swimming spots. The Waterbury Reservoir is a summer favorite, with crystal-clear water, sandy beaches, and quiet coves perfect for a swim. Stowe's rivers also provide hidden gems, where gentle currents and rocky outcrops create refreshing swimming holes. Whether you prefer floating in the sunshine or wading in after a long hike, nothing beats the cool, invigorating waters of Vermont in the summer.

WITNESS FALL'S MASTERPIECE

Fall in Stowe is a season of transformation—where vibrant foliage paints the landscape in rich reds, oranges, and golds, and the crisp air invites you to explore. There's a reason Stowe is consistently regarded as one of the top destinations to visit in the fall—its breathtaking views of autumn colors are unmatched. Whether you're hiking through forests aglow with color or enjoying a scenic drive along the backroads, Stowe offers the perfect blend of adventure and tranquility. As the season unfolds, you'll find the town feels as warm and inviting as the fall colors themselves. Fall in Stowe is the perfect blend of adventure, relaxation, and awe-inspiring scenery—a season that invites you to fall in love with this place all over again.

Tips for Visiting During the Fall

Bring lots of layers as you could experience crisp mornings, warmer days and cooler afternoons, so layering is key. Be sure to bring a warm jacket for early hikes and a light layer for those sunny afternoon strolls.

Timing is everything with foliage and in Stowe it typically turns throughout September and October, with peak foliage generally visible the last week of September and the first week of October. No matter what stage of the foliage transformation you choose to visit, you'll be sure to see spectacular scenery.

Expect it to be busy since fall is one of the most popular times of year to visit. Plan ahead as best you can and book lodging, activities and reservations in advance. Allow extra time for travel due to increased fall traffic.

Venture beyond the main attractions to ensure you don't miss out on the hidden gems our town has to offer. Don't be afraid to explore some of the quieter trails or backroads for a more peaceful and personal experience with fall's beauty.

Embrace the adventure – While the foliage may be the star of the show, don't miss out on the endless opportunities for adventure. Whether it's hiking, paddling, ziplining and more, there are many unique activities where you can take in the stunning foliage from an entirely new perspective.

Help us take care of our destination by picking up after yourself and disposing of waste properly during your visit. While this may be common practice year round, it's particularly important during the fall due to the heightened volumes of visitors.

EXPLORE STOWE'S COVERED BRIDGES

Covered bridges are a quintessential part of New England's charm and Vermont's countryside is dotted with more than 100 of these historic gems. In Stowe, you'll find three particularly stunning covered bridges, each with its own story and unique design, just waiting to be admired and photographed. The gentle hum of the river beneath and the rustic beauty of these structures invite you to slow down, take a deep breath and appreciate the timeless elegance of our landscape. As you explore, be sure to visit all three—it's an experience that's as picture-perfect as the bridges themselves.

GOLD BROOK COVERED BRIDGE

Also known as Emily's Bridge, this bridge was built in 1844 and is the oldest Howe Truss bridge in Vermont. The bridge is famously said to be haunted by Emily's ghost with reported sightings of ghostly apparitions under the moonlit sky. Located at the intersection of Gold Brook Road and Stowe Hollow Road, Emily's Bridge can be accessed from Route 100 via Gold Brook Road.

BROOKDALE BRIDGE

Located at one end of the Stowe Recreation Path, the Brookdale Bridge was built in 1964 and spans the West Branch Little River. This particular bridge is a "stringer" covered bridge, meaning it was made with stringers instead of traditional style trusses. Visitors can access the bridge via Brook Road off of Route 108. There is a small parking area for the recreation path on the left right before the covered bridge.

RED COVERED BRIDGE

Built in 1896, the Red Covered Bridge is located in Morristown and is only a 10 minute drive from the Stowe village. The bridge carries Cole Hill Road across Sterling Brook and features an odd king post truss with a superimposed queen post system. Follow Route 100 out of Stowe heading towards Morrisville and take Stagecoach Road. Turn left on Sterling Valley Road and the bridge is located less than two miles on the right.

Visit Throughout the Seasons

No matter the time of year, covered bridges in Stowe offer a glimpse into Vermont’s history and a picture-perfect setting that transforms with the seasons. In spring, these storied structures frame rushing rivers and budding greenery, creating a peaceful contrast between the fresh bloom of the landscape and the timeless wooden beams. Summer brings dappled sunlight filtering through the trees, inviting visitors to pause and soak in the charm of these rustic crossings. In fall, covered bridges take on a postcard-worthy glow, surrounded by fiery foliage that makes each bridge feel like a step into a classic New England painting. And when winter arrives, a dusting of snow turns them into something straight out of a holiday scene—quiet, serene, and beautifully framed by frost-covered trees. Whether you’re visiting for the history, the views, or simply the peaceful moment of crossing from one side to the other, Stowe’s covered bridges offer a new perspective with every season.

TAKE A SCENIC DRIVE

Stowe is home to some of the most breathtaking scenic drives in New England. Uncover Stowe's untrodden back roads to appreciate sprawling scenery and discover hidden gems throughout the area.

POPULAR ROUTES

Elmore Mountain and Randolph Road: Head North out of Stowe and turn right onto Randolph Road. Stop and visit Moss Glen Falls, the tallest waterfall in Vermont, before continuing on Elmore Mountain Road. This drive will take you out past the Old Elmore Cemetery and includes a magnificent view west, across to Mount Mansfield and the Sterling Range.

Moscow and Little River: This is a shorter drive along the banks of the Little River as it flows from the lower village to Adam's Mill in Moscow, a small hamlet named after Moscow, Russia. Extend your trip slightly by passing Barrows Road and taking Trapp Hill Road to pass the von Trapp Family Lodge & Resort to take in the scenic views on the property.

Smugglers' Notch to Jeffersonville: The scenic drive through "The Notch" is a popular drive among visitors and locals alike. The historic smuggling route is known for its winding nature and rocky cliffs. The road through Smugglers' Notch is only open to drivers in late spring, summer and fall. The road is closed to automobile traffic in the winter, but transforms into a winter playground for snowshoers and cross-country skiers.

Sterling Valley and Mud City: The Sterling Valley is unique in its backcountry feel. Explore the two valleys running south from the crescent of the Sterling Range. Both were once busy farm areas; now only a few active farms remain. This drive brings you through the quaint, local backroads of town and takes you past a classic, red covered bridge on Sterling Valley Road.

Stowe Hollow: Stowe Hollow is nestled at the foot of the Worcester Range, along the Gold Brook. Perhaps the most famous covered bridge in the area, Gold Brook Covered Bridge, also known as "Emily's Bridge," is located at the intersection of Gold Brook Road and Covered Bridge Road. Follow Stowe Hollow Road along the scenic mountain range and then take the legendary Route 100 back to Stowe. On your way back, you will pass two of Vermont's most popular attractions: Ben & Jerry's Ice Cream Factory and Cold Hollow Cider Mill.

YOUR FALL FOLIAGE ITINERARY

Day 1: Iconic Views

STOWE MOUNTAIN RESORT

Take in some of the best views around at Vermont's Tallest Peak, Mount Mansfield. Drive to the top via the historic Auto Toll Road or take a ride on the classic Gondola SkyRide.

SCENIC DRIVE THROUGH SMUGGLERS' NOTCH

This narrow, winding pass is one of Vermont's most scenic fall drives, with towering cliffs and golden canopies making every turn unforgettable.

PERCY FARM CORN MAZE

Celebrate fall with a classic New England corn maze, where getting lost among the tall stalks only adds to the fun. Located right along the Stowe Recreation Path, the Percy Farm Corn Maze is a local, fall favorite.

SPEAR BARN

Nothing looks quite as spectacular amongst fall foliage compared to a classic, red Vermont barn. Spear Barn is located off Luce Hill Road and is a showstopper during fall foliage season.

VON TRAPP FAMILY LODGE & RESORT

With some of the best views in town, the von Trapp Family Lodge & Resort is a great place to visit, especially during the fall. Meet their Scottish Highland Cattle on a tour of the farm or taste their Vermont-made, Austrian-style Lager at the von Trapp Brewery and Bierhall.

Day 2: Take the Scenic Route

MOSS GLEN FALLS

Explore the tallest waterfall in Vermont framed by brilliant fall colors. Moss Glen Falls is located just north of town off of Randolph Road and the falls are a short, easy walk from the trailhead.

SCENIC DRIVE, ELMORE MOUNTAIN AND RANDOLPH ROAD

Continue past Moss Glen Falls and enjoy a stunningly scenic drive through the Vermont countryside. This drive features a magnificent view west, across to Mount Mansfield and the Sterling Range.

RED COVERED BRIDGE

While you're on that side of town, you can easily get to Red Covered Bridge and the drive through the Sterling Valley is equally as scenic during the fall. The bridge is located off of Sterling Valley Road.

STOWE RECREATION PATH

After spending some time in the car, get out and stretch your legs in the historic Stowe village. Venture behind the iconic Stowe Community Church and explore the start of the Stowe Recreation Path.

SUNSET ROCK SCENIC OVERLOOK

Just a short walk from Main Street is a short, easy hike up to Sunset Rock, featuring a scenic overlook of the downtown and a longer route with views of Mount Mansfield.

Day 3: Your Fall Classics

EMILY'S BRIDGE

Also known as Gold Brook Covered Bridge, this is the most well-known covered bridge in our area known for its spooky history and lore.

GRANDVIEW BARN

COLD HOLLOW CIDER MILL

A true Vermont staple, Cold Hollow Cider Mill is the classic taste of fall with fresh apple cider and warm, fresh cider donuts. Stop by for a sweet treat after exploring the Stowe Hollow area.

BEN & JERRY'S FACTORY

A trip to Vermont isn't complete without a cone from Ben & Jerry's. Located just up the road from Cold Hollow you can checkt both of these popular spots off your list.

WATERBURY RESERVOIR

Take in the fall foliage from out on the water at the Waterbury Reservoir. Onsite rentals are available for those looking to venture out. No reservations are accepted for on-site rentals.

EMBRACE YOUR WINTER CHILL

Winter in Stowe is the ultimate gift that keeps on giving. With world-class skiing on Mount Mansfield, it's easy to see why Stowe is renowned as one of the top destinations for winter sports. But that's just the beginning. Beyond the slopes, you'll uncover a treasure trove of winter activities—quiet snowshoeing trails, exhilarating snowmobiling adventures and ice skating beneath the stars. Stowe's charming village, with its cozy cafés, intimate galleries and welcoming atmosphere, offers the perfect après-ski retreat. Every corner of Stowe invites you to enjoy the season, making this winter wonderland a place where every day brings something new to discover.

Tips for Visiting During the Winter

Dress for the elements – Stowe's winter temperatures can be brisk, so layering is essential. Be sure to bring warm gear for outdoor adventures—snow pants, insulated jackets, and winter boots are a must.

Plan for winter travel and check the forecast for any winter storms or changes in conditions. Be sure to allow extra time for travel and account for wintry road conditions. Having snow tires or chains and checking road updates will keep you prepared for navigating Vermont roads in the winter.

Explore beyond the slopes – While Stowe is known for its world-class skiing, there's a wealth of winter activities waiting to be uncovered. From snowshoeing and ice fishing to fatbiking and dogsledding, winter in Stowe offers something for every adventurer.

Don't fret the cold if chillier temperatures are not your favorite. There are plenty of cozy indoor activities where you can experience all the warmth and charm of Stowe without the chill.

Indulge in après-ski after a day of skiing or snowboarding. Enjoy a cozy drink at a local tavern or brewery, treat yourself to a hearty meal, or warm up by the fire in one of the town's charming venues.

Book rentals early to ensure you have all the equipment you need. Whether you need ski gear, snowshoes, sleds or winter apparel, booking rentals in advance will help save time and help you get straight to the fun.

ALPINE ADVENTURES

For over 80 years, visitors and locals alike have flocked to Stowe Mountain Resort to experience world-class terrain and create lasting memories that keep them coming back season to season. Home to Vermont's tallest peak, Mount Mansfield, Stowe is consistently recognized as one of the top destinations for skiing and riding, both across the country and around the world. With 116 trails and 12 lifts, Stowe Mountain Resort offers an extensive and diverse alpine landscape, welcoming an average of over 300 inches of snow annually. The resort is surrounded by two peaks, the majestic Mount Mansfield and Spruce Peak, and the two are connected by an inter-mountain transfer Gondola, the Over Easy Gondola. Find your perfect run—whether you're a seasoned pro or a first-timer—you'll discover slopes that match your experience and ignite your sense of adventure.

BEYOND THE SLOPES

While Stowe is renowned for its world-class skiing and snowboarding, the town offers so much more when it comes to winter recreation. Whether you prefer the tranquility of snowshoeing through quiet forests, the thrill of ice climbing, or a truly unique adventure like dogsledding, Stowe's winter landscape invites you to experience the season in a way that goes beyond the slopes. With a wealth of outdoor activities to choose from, you'll find that Stowe's winter offerings are as diverse as the snowflakes that fall upon its mountains. Lace up your boots, grab your gear and discover the magic of Stowe off the beaten path.

DOGSLEDDING

Experience a unique adventure into Vermont's winter wonderland. Stowe offers several options for those interested in dog sledding. Learn how to handle, harness and hitch a team, while enjoying the scenery.

FAT BIKING

A cool, unique way to experience the winter months on wheels, fat biking offers a great alternative for cycling enthusiasts. Much like mountain bikes, fat bikes differ in that they feature wide tires, which make it easier to pedal across snow, effectively adapting the activity into an all-season endeavor.

ICE CLIMBING

Experience a unique, thrilling adventure along with exclusive winter views by ice climbing in Stowe. Learn the basics, safety information and how to ice climb with Sunrise Mountain Guides.

ICE FISHING

Ice fishing is the winter twist on a classic Vermont pastime, offering a unique opportunity to enjoy the outdoors in a peaceful, less-traveled way. It's a chance to disconnect and embrace the quiet of the frozen landscape.

NORDIC SKIING

With one of the largest and most diverse trail systems in the United States, Stowe ranks as one of the top cross-country ski destinations on the east coast, including over 3,000 acres of conserved land.

SLEIGH RIDES

Live out your winter fairytale with a sleigh ride through the enchanting hills of Stowe. It's a peaceful, nostalgic journey that invites you to slow down and take in the quiet charm of Stowe in winter. You can experience this one-of-a-kind activity at the von Trapp Family Lodge & Resort

SNOWMOBILING

A whole new way to explore the wintery terrain. Experience the exhilaration of snowmobiling in Stowe, where miles of groomed trails await your exploration. Guided tours tailored to all skill levels are available through Snowmobile Vermont.

SNOWSHOEING

Snowshoeing is another great way to experience Stowe's winter wilderness at a slower pace. It's more accessible to many people, making it perfect for families, beginners and those seeking a less strenuous winter activity.

YOUR SPRING AWAKENING

Spring in Stowe feels like the best-kept secret—where the energy of the changing season meets the quiet beauty of the Green Mountains. While spring skiing at Stowe Mountain Resort offers one last chance to savor the slopes, the days get longer and the trails beckon for exploration. The Stowe Recreation Path comes alive with walkers and cyclists as the landscape begins to awaken. It's a slower, more peaceful time in Stowe, perfect for enjoying the charm of the village without the rush of peak season. Spring also marks the start of maple sugaring—take a tour at one of Stowe's sugarhouses and taste the season's first batch of maple syrup. From craft beer and cider to locally-distilled spirits, spring is a great time to sip and sample Stowe's local flavors. Explore galleries featuring local artists, visit museums to learn about Stowe's rich history, or attend a springtime art event that showcases the creativity and talent of this unique mountain town.

Tips for Visiting During the Spring

Take advantage of the quieter time of year with some of the best lodging rates. It's a great opportunity to experience the town at a slower pace. Explore galleries, stroll through local shops, and enjoy meals without the crowds—giving you a more intimate Stowe experience.

Expect changing weather since spring forecasts in Stowe can be a bit unpredictable. It's always a good idea to check the forecast and be prepared for rain, sunshine, or potentially even snow.

Don't miss maple sugaring season and be sure to visit one of the local sugarhouses for a tour, and indulge in fresh maple syrup, maple products, and sweet treats that capture the flavor of Vermont.

Explore local art and culture by visiting galleries and museums in the area. Spring is an inspiring time for the Stowe arts scene and it's a great time of year to discover the works of local artists.

Understanding mud season is pivotal to visiting in the spring. As the snow melts and the ground begins to thaw, it can create muddy conditions on trails and dirt roads. Be prepared to adjust your plans in the event of soggy conditions.

Check for any closures during this time of transition to ensure your desired activities and attractions are operational. Check ahead for restaurant openings, trail conditions and attraction schedules to make the most of your visit.

VERMONT'S SWEETEST SEASON

SPRING'S ARRIVAL MARKS THE START OF MAPLE SUGARING SEASON.

Anytime from late-February through April, billowing white clouds of maple steam, rolling off the evaporators of nearby sugar houses, fill the air with a faint trace of sweetness. Stowe offers a few options for visitors hoping to watch the sugaring process. Local sugar farms will open their business for viewing and offer tours throughout the season. Take in Vermont's sweetest season during the statewide Maple Open House Weekend, typically held in late-March, organized by the Vermont Maple Sugar Makers' Association, one of the oldest agricultural organizations in the United States.

SIP ON PERFECTION

Vermont is proud to have more craft breweries per capita than any other state in the nation, a testament to the state's rich brewing tradition and commitment to high-quality, locally crafted beverages. From craft beers to fine wines, spirits, and ciders, Vermont's local brewers, vintners, distillers, and cider makers continue to set the bar for innovation and quality. Stowe is home to some of the best, offering visitors the chance to taste locally made beverages in a stunning setting.

GUIDED TASTING TOURS

While some of these brew houses offer on-site tours, another way to customize your craft beverage tour of the area is through guided tours like Savor Vermont and 4 Points VT: Brewery Tours. Experience the best, local brew spots from friendly, knowledgeable locals. No need to worry about driving; sit back, relax and let your guide navigate the area.

Peaceful Retreat

LEAVE YOUR HURRY AT HOME

Stowe is the ultimate destination for relaxation and wellness, offering a peaceful retreat amidst Vermont's breathtaking natural beauty. With world-class spas and wellness centers, there is something for everyone looking to unwind. Surrounded by mountains, fresh air and tranquil landscapes, this is the place to disconnect and recharge. From peaceful hikes and quiet moments along the Stowe Recreation Path to yoga sessions and mindful activities, Stowe's offerings encourage a harmonious balance of body and mind. Whether you're here for a weekend getaway or a longer stay, Stowe's focus on wellness allows you to embrace relaxation at your own pace and discover a renewed sense of calm.

IMMERSE YOURSELF IN ARTS & CULTURE

Stowe's natural beauty has long been a muse, inspiring artists, storytellers, and visionaries. Nestled in the heart of the Green Mountains, this town is more than an outdoor paradise—it's a place where creativity thrives. From contemporary galleries showcasing local and regional talent to museums preserving the town's rich heritage, Stowe invites you to explore its vibrant arts and culture scene year-round.

A REFLECTION OF VERMONT'S BEAUTY

The art galleries in Stowe are as diverse and distinctive as the landscape itself. The Current, Stowe's dynamic contemporary art center, hosts rotating exhibitions, thought-provoking installations, and community events that bring art to life. For those drawn to fine art and mountain-inspired works, Bryan Fine Art Gallery features breathtaking landscapes, bold abstracts, and handcrafted pieces that capture Vermont's essence. For work of Vermont artisans, the Northwood Gallery and Simon Pearce are must visits.

PRESERVING STOWE'S STORIED PAST

Stowe's history is as rich as its scenery, and its museums offer a fascinating look into the stories that have shaped the town. The Vermont Ski and Snowboard Museum celebrates Stowe's legacy as the birthplace of skiing in Vermont, with exhibits honoring the pioneers and innovations that made the state a winter sports destination. For a broader glimpse into the area's past, the Stowe Historical Society Museum showcases artifacts, photographs, and personal accounts that bring the town's history to life.
